Response to Preliminary Amendment

Preliminary Amendment filed on September 20, 2005 has been entered. New claims 13-17 have been added. Claims 1-17 are pending in the application.

Election of Species in National Stage Applications Submitted Under 35
U.S.C. 371

(A) This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- (i) method of making an industrial fabric (Claim 1, 3-17);
- (ii) method of repairing a damaged industrial fabric (Claim 2).

Election of Species in the Method of Making an Industrial Fabric

- (B) Claim 1 is generic to patentably distinct species of industrial fabric comprising:
- (a) a non-porous layer (Claims 7);
  - (b) a porous layer (Claims 8);

Election of Species of Techniques of Achieving a Non-porous Layer

(C) Claim 7 is generic to patentably distinct species of techniques of achieving a non-porous layer:

- (a) by applying a thick layer in one step;
- (b) by applying several layers on top of each other.

Art Unit: 1792

Election of Species of Techniques of Achieving a Porous Layer

(D) Claim 8 is generic to patentably distinct species of techniques of achieving a porous layer:

(a) by applying a thin layer;

(b) by first wetting the surface of said fabric with a liquid before applying the powder onto said surface;

(c) by applying a thin layer and by first wetting the surface of said fabric with a liquid before applying the powder onto said surface.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a Species from each Species Group (A), (B), (C), (D) to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election. Note that species should be elected from each Species Group (A), (B), (C), (D) in a manner which would allow all elected specie to be joined for examination.

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR

1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the invention and/or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions and/or species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention and/or species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.
